

LEADING THE HYBRID WORK

A chance to find a way to combine the best of two worlds for enhanced trust, commitment and performance!

(A first step for decision makers who are able and willing to transform and adapt)

Do you or your colleagues suffer from

- Irritations due to working from home or hanging around at the office
- No-trust-leadership (remote controlling and micromanaging the workforce in the net)
- Delayed response phenomenon (no availability when you need it)
- “Grey mood syndrome” (too little contact, lack of motivation, fun and identification)
- “Zoom-style dress code” and attitude (an underdressed and distracted workforce)

We have created a method that helps to

- Increase efficiency and productivity working from home
- Get your employees back to the office in a coordinated fashion
- Embrace a new style of leadership in a digitalized world
- Create a great atmosphere and thus high retention and satisfaction
- Foster a new culture embracing the new style of working
- Unlock the potential of trust, freedom, self-responsibility and fearlessness
- Enhance loyalty, innovation, team-spirit and results

Take aways:

In an interactive process considering all stakeholders we shall together create

- a master plan embracing what is already there and what needs to happen in order to thrive in a world of volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity
- check lists to create an individual solution when you are back at the office
- proven practices of do's and don't's
- The results of a confidential and open exchange of experiences and ideas within a group of max. 20 leaders
